SECTION 2

Introduction

Biomedical Waste (management & handling) Rules (BMW Rules 1998) were notified by the Government of India on 20th July 1998. During the course of implementation of these rules, valuable insight and operational experience were gained, and a need was felt for amending the rules in order to make them more practical, user-friendly and also for inclusion of newer technology. The rules have been amended in year 2000 & 2003 and recently these rules have been amended in the year 2016 and notified on 28th March 2016. There is a major strategic shift in management of Biomedical Waste on few counts, such as (a) Enabling framework for engaging Common Biomedical Waste Treatment Facility (CBMWTF), (b) Enlarging scope of applicability of BMW Rules by including many other generators of Biomedical Waste (c) Amendments in Waste Categorisation and colour coded collection System (d) Requirement of mandatory training of the personnel involved in Bio Medical Waste Management (e) Monitoring of Emissions (f) Reporting format & periodicity (g) Fixing timelines for phasing-out of chlorinated bags and introducing bar-coded tracking system, etc.

The Commissionerate of Health, Medical Services, Medical Education and Research, (Medical Section), Gandhinagar intends to outsource the management of Bio Medical Waste generated at the public health facilities in the State. Commissionerate of Health, Medical Services, Medical Education and Research, (Medical Section), Gandhinagar invites Technical and Financial proposals (together known as bid) from Common Bio Medical Waste Treatment Facility Operator (CBMWTF) having valid authorization from GPCB (Gujarat State Pollution Control Board)/designated authority for collection, transportation and treatment of Bio-medical Waste generated at public health facilities.

Background

Healthcare waste has always been considered hazardous because of its inherent potential to cause injuries and spread infections in the community. It also poses a threat of contamination of soil, air, water bodies and underground water table. Such waste gets generated at many sources - hospitals, health clinics, nursing homes, research laboratories, etc. including during home care. Now under the recently notified Biomedical Waste Rules 2016, its scope has been widened to include the healthcare waste generated in first-aid rooms in schools & colleges, waste from outreach sessions like immunisation services, AYUSH hospitals, etc.

Unscientific management of Bio Medical Waste has following hazards –

- Nosocomial Infections in patients
- Infections and hazards to all category of hospital staff with particular risk to waste handlers
- Transmission of infections from health facilities to community
- Risk to rag-pickers
- Risk associated with hazardous chemicals
- Re-circulation of syringes & other Disposables & drugs
- Air, water and soil contamination
- Offensive to aesthetics & sensitivities of the community.

Generally, 70% - 80% of the waste generated in a Health facility is harmless and akin to household/ municipal waste. It does not require any treatment and specialised method for disposal. Other types of waste has potential to harm living beings and environment, hence it needs to be treated to make it safe before disposing by an environment friendly technology.

Context

Bio Medical waste (Management & Handling) rules were initially notified on 20th July 1998 by the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate change, Government of India and the rules were applicable to all healthcare facilities handling more than 1000 patients in a month. Recently the rules underwent major amendments and the amended rules have been notified on 28th March 2016. These rules are called as Bio Medical Waste Management Rules 2016, and in this document and other related documents have been referred as BMW Rules 2016.

The BMW Rules 2016 lay down protocols & procedures for segregation, collection, treatment and disposal of the biomedical waste. It also provides duties of different stakeholders in the BMW management system, and as well as different standards for the equipment. The BMW Rules 2016 apply to all persons who generate, collect, receive, store, transport, treat, dispose, or handle bio-medical waste in any form. The rules are applicable to all hospitals, nursing homes, clinics, dispensaries, veterinary institutions, animal houses, pathological laboratories, blood bank, AYUSH hospitals, clinical establishments, research or educational institutions, health camps, medical or surgical camps, vaccination camps, blood donation camps, first aid rooms of schools, forensic laboratories and research labs.

The amended revised rules encourage the health facilities to have a functional linkage with Common Bio-medical Waste Treatment Facility (CBMWTF) for collection, treatment and disposal of the Biomedical Waste. Para 3 of Section 7 of the rules makes it mandatory for health facilities to have such linkages, if a Common Bio-medical Waste Treatment Facility is available within distance of seventy five (75) kilometre. This RFP has been issued for creating an institutional framework to enable state/district/health facilities to engage a Common bio medical waste treatment facility for proper management of healthcare waste, and such arrangement is in compliance to the provision of BMW Rules 2016.
